POSSIBLE COMBINATIONS.

WHAT MAY BE DONE BY THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

May Will Probably Include the Leading Candidates from the Southern Part of Illinois, or Those from the South—A Private Caucus in the Republican Leadership of the House—The Time for Starting the Senate-Opinion of Poor and People.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—The Monday point of the Capital is being directed in speculation upon the character that will come into the fight for the Republican caucus nomination for United States Senator. The chances for combinations are as numerous as the candidates, and it is not a matter of surprise to politicians that the possibilities who are in view in the event must upon failure to compromise on the present leaders multiply into dark or prodigious fair prospect. The chance seems for combinations and their finding of enough or nearly enough votes to candidates are not accepted as entirely possible by the members, who have not passed through a fight for Speaker in which all the old leads have failed and their new ones never brought evidences of strength before making promises. But the most important moments in the contest and the one which has the greatest influence in preventing members from openly making alliances is the fact that for the first time in twenty-five years there is presented an opportunity for turning the control of Illinois politics into new hands. Since the war down Logan, Oglesby, and Cullom have been mentioned places at times. Yeager before have all been able for them, and so can one battle find an object against this momentary completion of a task and the second or third degree of expedience ever expects received by the assistance Hallgren. The seats of Gen. Logan afford an opportunity to actively change the channels of political events and the beginning, for, if Gen. Oglesby continues in an unusual determination, to retire to private life at the end of term, Illinois will have three of the old leaders still remaining. Senator Cullom, Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, and Senator Shelby M. Cullom. In the present division in the Republican party in this State Oglesby and Senator Cullom are both leaning the forces of both and seeking to keep the control of the party in the hands of the present leaders. Speaker Cannon is not a factor in Illinois politics, and will not be in the present division, but he is a power in the Republican party and will be a factor in the Senatorial contest. The control of Speaker Cannon over the patronage of the House is considerable, and will be used to the best advantage by him. Senator Cullom is in the position of a leader who has been deposed by his own party, and will be a factor in the contest only in the event that he is able to secure the support of a majority of the Republican members of the Legislature. Senator Shelby M. Cullom is in the position of a leader who has been deposed by his own party, and will be a factor in the contest only in the event that he is able to secure the support of a majority of the Republican members of the Legislature.

Democratic Fun at Harmony.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—Democratic Legislators from Springfield, Ill., and Indianapolis, Ind., are members of the Democratic Harmony club, which was organized last night at the Sherman House. The club will meet every Monday night at the Sherman House, and will be composed of members of the Democratic Legislatures of Illinois and Indiana. The club will have no permanent officers, but will elect a chairman at each meeting. The object of the club is to promote harmony between the Democratic members of the Legislatures of Illinois and Indiana. PLANS OF REPUBLICANS.

A WAY TO HELP CONGRESS, SUGGESTED.

The United States of Representative Will Send the Joint Session of the Legislature Monday in Spite of the Senate's Adjournment—One Wisconsin Congressman to Meet Wednesday—Committee for Speaker-Nominations for a Joint Caucus Service in Some—General Political Notes.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 9.—[Special.]—The Republican caucus has reached that point where it can be truly said there is no sitting what a day may bring forth. Both sides are hoping and working. Democratic error in providing that none of caucus and plans should be in charge of the House and opportunities in the body of legislature. The Republicans are of one mind as to what ought to be done, and that only question, if caucus is to get a meeting, is when the time shall be taken. The first duty is to organize the body for Lieutenant-Governor and see that he is inducted into office. Then the conference body together that the joint convention should meet tomorrow and canvass the vote. The Democratic caucus have adjourned over till Tuesday. The Republican caucus may choose to consider such an movement illegal and proceed as a body to the hall of the House to witness the canvass of the vote. The Democratic members of the House may decide to carry. If they do so there will not be a quorum of the joint convention, but it is held that this fact does not so ascertained. Right here is suggested another contingency. On the face of the returns the Democrats have 9 and the Republicans 8 votes. If necessary to carry a quorum, the Republican House could compel Democratic absentees and arrest, and having secured the Republicans constituting a quorum, then the body is organized. The Republicans will take the oath of office Tuesday morning, when the Senate meets, so far as to be in readiness to proceed to the duties of the office. There is no doubt in regard to the legality of the proceedings, and the Republicans are confident that they will be sustained by the courts. The Democrats have been counting on the Republicans not being ready to proceed with the organization of the House, and have been preparing to take advantage of this fact. The Republicans have been preparing to take advantage of this fact. The Democrats have been preparing to take advantage of this fact. The Republicans have been preparing to take advantage of this fact.

GEN. GRANT AND HIS POSSIBLE POLITICAL NOMINATION.

A Letter from A. T. Stewart to Judge Hilton's Father in 1868—The Attempt to Use Mr. Stewart's Name on the Democratic Ticket—Judge Hilton's Opinion of Grant.

New York, Jan. 9.—[Special.]—The following letter is addressed to Judge Hilton's father in 1868, the year of the nomination of Grant for the Presidency, and it reveals a curious attempt which occurred there nearly on the 1st of 1868 time, there to use the name of Gen. Sherman as a candidate for the Presidency in 1868, rather than the very same week. Gen. Grant was to be nominated for the Presidency:

After reading the following letter from Judge Hilton to his father, the latter will be interested to know that the writer was one of the Democratic party who were opposed to the nomination of Gen. Grant for the Presidency in 1868, and that he was willing to accept the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, and it would have been accepted if Gen. Grant would not accept the nomination. MONDAY, JANUARY 14, 1907.

Senator Tatum and his bride are at the Grand Pacific.

The Rev. Dr. J. L. Withrow, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, occupied the pulpit yesterday morning for the first time. A large congregation was present.

Yesterday morning the great field of ice that has choked up the north end of Lake Michigan for so many days was thrown out of sight by the wind. The Government water station is a thing of the past.

The report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction of Dakota makes a good showing. The value of the permanent school property in Dakota is about $6,000,000. It has increased from less than $60,000 in 1870. There were in that last 100,000 children.

A correspondent of Daily Science calls attention to a fact pointed out in these columns several days ago. It is the morning of June eighteenth from Minneapolis to the eastward of the same month as is charged from Chicago. So says it is no wonder the grain and flour trade of Chicago is crippled when points 400 miles further to the Northwest get the same rates to the seaboard, he adds, "Is not this matter worthy the attention of the Board of Trade?" Probably it is, but is the heart chiefly to do anything about it? Chicago is the point where swinging post rates are maintained in order to be raised whenever [illegible].

In ladies now as if Lieutenant-Governor McGovern were persecuted, to say the least, in announcing his own resignation. Those who know the gentleman's letter will not be at a loss to understand his overwhelming sense of the fairness in this case. It is not too late, however, for time to put himself right in the matter. In fact the resignation of all three of the Commissioners must be filed and accepted before the General Assembly would be justified in appropriating one dollar to the expenses of the commission. Gov. Higgins recommends the appropriation of $50,000 for the support of that commission and the carrying out of the purpose of the amendment. If such appeal is would be a good investment, but from that the money has been more than thrown away. The farmers of the Legislature cannot afford to be indifferent to anything so appalling as gross prevarication.

The new Governor of Massachusetts is the youngest manager, which, by the way, is a matter of locality, takes a somewhat novel position in the matter of temperance. Instead of attempting a prohibitive amendment to the State Constitution, as it was expected he would do, he recognizes license as the law of the State and recommends that the revenue of licenses issued in cities shall be returned to current funds by law, and that to that also the fees for licenses shall be greatly increased. This scheme can hardly be said to be a practical one, as it would at once create a monopoly in the liquor business by law which could not help but become dangerous. There is a shorter and to the same result by natural means. If the Governor wants to increase the number of saloons it can be easily done by granting the right of local option to cities which favor sufficient majority to carry it, and to those which have not by doing the reverse as a minimum of $1,000 for licenses, with the right to increase it. This would equally decrease the number of saloons, and no one would feel hurt with the process.

Across the bosom of the antiseptic atmosphere by Gen. Lighting in his annual message are the following:

[illegible]

The fact accumulated with the facts in the case would imagine on reading these items that Illinois was the last organized State, simultaneously speaking, in the whole country. With these "universities" it would be equal Illinois is too well supplied. As investigation, however, would prove that the three institutions are universities only in name. They are not even colleges or first-class academies. Two of them are merely educational training establishments, and the third is a useful agricultural academy. The same university as applied to them is a ridiculous misnomer, on a par with the application of the title professor to every dancing-pedagog and tout of Cupid in every high-priced of a saloon regimen. The ridiculous practice should be discontinued. When Illinois has an educational institution such as that at Ann Arbor, Mich., it will be time enough to say that it has a "university."

The effort of the Socialist Bryans to force a pledge through the United Labor Convention as a condition of admission to its ranks that every member would withdraw from the old parties and would submit to the constituted authorities of the United Labor party on pain of expulsion failed to carry. That such a pledge here signed it would have forced the members hand and foot and left them utterly without political freedom. The scheme, however, was in perfect keeping with the whole program of Socialism. Its principles can never be made successful except upon the basis of the negation of individual rights and freedom of will. Personal liberty in all things must be crushed out. The leveling process cannot take place so long as the individual has any freedom of choice or any right to his natural inheritance. He must give up the principle of citizenship, the right to express and communicate, to act and [illegible] in favor of the principle of collectivism known as "the State." But how would "the State," after it had robbed individuals in the name of the people, be maintained? Simply by the [illegible] liberty existed. Hence, to do with its power and authority, the individual [illegible]

THE NEWS FROM ABROAD.

A DAY OF CORRESPONDENCE FROM FOREIGN CENTERS.

Dispatch Sent to the Sultan by Certain Members of the Boer Club—Russian Economy of Belgium to Hold Themselves—Address to Gardiner for Miscellaneous Offers of the Irish Secession—The Trial of the Dynamiters.

Brussels, Dec. 21.—Count Van Aert Alfred Castelin, as minister to and envoy of Montenegro to reside at Constantinople and Berlin was transferred for the signature of the Emperor yesterday. It is reported that Count Van Aert will advocate in Turkish circles, the object being the protection of King Milan and to put upon the throne a friend of Austria's selection.

Opposed to a Protectorate.

London, Jan. 5.—Advices from Vienna say that the influences exerted by Prince Bismarck to bring the effect of smoothing the existing friction between Austria and Russia.

It is stated that Count Goluchowski to Baron Aehrenthal, the Austrian ambassador at Berlin, and to the question of the withdrawal of any change of relations.

Prince Alexander's Plans.

Sofia, Jan. 5.—[Copyright, 1895, James Gordon Bennett.]—In reply to a direct telegraphic inquiry which I sent to Prince Alexander of Battenberg during his visit here from this city to the report that at the desire of a very high personage he was about to make a prolonged tour, I have just received the following authorized communication from Prince Alexander: "In about a fortnight his Highness Prince Alexander thinks of resuming his long-planned plan of undertaking a long journey in the North, principally Russia, but this journey is to be of four months' duration, and will be undertaken with a view exclusively to private affairs. Prince Alexander is not charged with any mission to the courts of the Prince's friends in Europe."

Prince Ferdinand's Plans.

Paris, Jan. 5.—M. Flourens, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in an unofficial interview with the Bulgarian delegate today, communicated that Bulgaria would not order Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Prince, to visit, but to take an active part in the settlement of the question at issue; the despatch of troops. The delegate asked if Prince Ferdinand the Powers would not find it necessary to make a declaration to the effect that only Sultan was qualified to undertake such a task.

Trying to Freeze Prince.

Sofia, Jan. 5.—The German Government has forbidden Bulgarians belonging to the territorial army to stay in Austria-Germany longer than a few days. Many manufacturers are in that province who are in sympathy with Prince having ordered a postponement for their business.

The Standard today says that Turkey has issued invitations to the Powers to the effect of a conference, Bulgaria, and Greece, are trying to induce Turkey to refuse.

Gone to See the Sultan.

Sofia, Jan. 5.—M. Zankoff, who was recently invited to visit the Sultan of Turkey and explain the Bulgarian situation, started for Constantinople today.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Gladstone Expresses Himself on English Political Affairs.

London, Jan. 5.—Mr. Gladstone, in a telegram to a Liberal meeting yesterday, said: "I wish others are all turning to the right direction."

It is learned that a reliable source that Lord Rosebery, the Foreign Secretary, is at present indisposed to take any other office than that of the leadership of the country and the very demand is the will gradually decrease under the consideration.

The Daily Telegraph has arranged with the Michael Davitt Irish land for Parnell's release. The Telegraph's correspondent says: "Davitt is the leader of the movement now practically in the hands of the Irish people. Parnell will be responsible, says the Telegraph's correspondent, for the Irish vote. The Telegraph's correspondent says: "Davitt will be responsible for personal matters with regard to Parnell's release. I have no doubt will be in the hands of the English as well as the Irish people."

Proposed Mr. Gordon of the Affairs.

Belfast, Jan. 5.—Messrs. Clay, Gladstone, and Flowers, members of Parliament, attended a meeting which was held today at Ballymacarrett, County Limerick, to protest against the evictions of tenants in the possession of Mr. Wardlaw. Mr. Clay, in the course of a speech, expressed the hope of Mr. Parnell, ex-member of the Irish Home, as the "biggest jackass that ever came between." Mr. Flowers advised the meeting of any one who should take a farm from which a tenant had been evicted. Meeting passed resolutions protesting to Mr. Clay. While a number of bailiffs, accompanied by 20 policemen, were evicting tenants in Mallow, a mob gathered, the police were assaulted and the bailiffs rushed into houses. Finally the police succeeded in evicting the tenants. The police were unable to protect the bailiffs and workmen from the mob during the afternoon. Further evictions have been postponed in consequence.

The Night Also Dull in the Wool, Due to the Opening of a Short Session and to Manipulation of Stock Commission—Lower Likely to Prevail—Effect of the Senate Bonding Arrangement—Effect of the Failed Plate Bankers—Other News from Wall Street.

New York, Jan. 5.—[Special.]—The fixed financial article says: The first week of the new year has been signalized in the stock market by nothing in particular. Business on all lines for a time. Prices for a little in the first part of the week, but on the second quotations, which appear to be made principally by the covering of short interest, the buying record, the market lapsed into dullness, and since any marketing pressure to favor Central gave it a chance for all interest for the object of the attempt to depress prices, and for the purpose of the Eastern syndicate which has shall be sufficiently developed to require a New York sensation. It does to say other in the background of the or for observing that no one who has been able to get a glimpse of it knows had been a moderate seller of shares and the contingency to account for those upon recent exchange sales to the public which seem gold exports. It is likely that will continue, as every week in London and continued at a comparatively high level, making the earning of shorts unsafe, and the Bank of England returns to have a reserve equal to a ten days' for many years. The most unfavorable element now pressing the selling movement. The banks are getting decidedly an investor's weekly statement of the loans there was the expansion of the loans there were also decreases in the specie reserve, which would be a natural result of the shipment of gold. The statement, however, was a surprise to the street, and the fact that the loans were increased during the week, when a decrease of $2,000,000 was looked for, is considered favorable. The statement of the Associated Banks of New York for the week ended Jan. 5, 1895, in comparison with those of the corresponding period in 1894:

Resignations of Two Directors Should Not Embarrass Matters.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—[Special.]—Owing to the disposition in the Chicago Council over the immediate dissolution of Parliament and the holding of a general election the Hon. John Costigan, Minister of Inland Revenue, has placed his resignation in the hands of Sir John A. Macdonald. It is not likely that it will be accepted until after the elections are over and the Dominion Government are sure as to its future existence. It is probable that Mr. Costigan will not be a candidate at the coming elections. He has been a member of the House since 1882, and has long been a prominent figure in Canadian politics. He has been a member of the Privy Council since 1885, and has been Minister of Inland Revenue since 1887. He is one of the Irish Catholic members of the Dominion Parliament, and has been a strong supporter of Sir John Thompson's administration.

THE INTER-STATE COMMERCE BILL.

Its Congressional Friends Do Not Fear the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Both of the Railroad and Warehouse Committees met last night and from what he had said with the arrangements he had come to the conclusion that the Inter-State Commerce bill would go through the Senate with a rush. He did not believe there were two-thirds enough before there would be a vote to kill the bill and he was sure the bill with amendments would secure title of being in the house of the nationality. Even in the Senate he thought the sentiment was much more favorable to the bill than it was in the House of Representatives. There was not a doubt in the minds of the committee that the bill would pass the Senate. Mr. Reed's declaration that he would not vote for the bill was not considered of any importance. The bill would be passed by the Senate, and he believed it would be signed by the President. There was a difference of 40 to 50 votes in favor of the bill.

Washington, Jan. 5.—[Special.]—The Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce met this morning and decided to report favorably the Inter-State Commerce bill. The vote was unanimous, all members present voting in favor of the bill. The bill will be reported to the Senate tomorrow morning, and it is the intention of the committee to have the bill passed by the Senate before the end of the week. The bill will be reported to the Senate tomorrow morning, and it is the intention of the committee to have the bill passed by the Senate before the end of the week.
